How to apply?

ePRIME

1. Enter the portal of the ePRIME Database and request an account

Access to ePRIME is restricted to individuals active in the development, implementation and review of NATO training and education. It is also available to individuals working in NATO bodies, ministries and government agencies, as well as selected partner organizations. <https://prime.hq.nato.int/>

To use ePRIME, you must obtain log-in credentials and a secure-access certificate from your national ePRIME coordinator or the ePRIME database manager at NATO headquarters.

If you need support, please contact the ePRIME database manager: prime@hq.nato.int

2. Apply for one of our courses

Search for "CIMIC" in the ePRIME database and you'll find all relevant data in the ePRIME database, especially the course registration form.

For you, this is the single point for entry, no need to use any additional forms from the CCOE homepage.

If you need support from CCOE, please contact CourseAdmin@cimic-coe.org

3. Direct payment of the students invoice

CCOE takes care about your course administration and execution. In order to avoid prepayment, there is an application deadline of 6 weeks before the respective CCOE courses start.

The invitation letter for the respective course in the ePRIME database will show how to follow these procedures.

Attention: NATO HQ decides, whether they will reimburse money for all course applicants or only for a few, if several persons from one partner nation attend a course.

Calculation example

The following calculations are an example, based on the participation of a student from a PfP country, e.g. The Former Yugoslavian Republic of Macedonia.

Current travel costs may differ, depending on the means of transport, dates of travel and number of total participants. Please check these circumstances for your own calculation!
