

Master of Arts: Civil-Military Interaction

CIVIL-MILITARY COOPERATION CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE

New prospects for Military education

The Civil-Military Cooperation Centre of Excellence (CCOE) has developed a graduate university degree:

The Master of Civil-Military Interaction (M-CMI).

For the first time a NATO Centre of Excellence fully aligns its military education with civilian educational standards in a partnership with the Helmut Schmidt University/University of the German Armed Forces Hamburg (HSU/UniBw H), Germany. We have formed a cooperation to deliver the highest level of education to dedicated Civilian- and Military leaders.

NATO COE PIONEERS IN ALIGNING ACADEMIC AND MILITARY EDUCATION

The field of Civil-Military Interaction is highly Interdisciplinary and complex alike. Current Military Operations as well as Civilian Crisis Response to natural disaster are both characterized by a diversity of actors and interests. What can be more suitable to address these challenges than a master's degree, whose richness in academic theories and methods is flavored by practical knowledge and expertise from the military?

Moreover, this effort compliments NATO's policy on Education & Training -The Global Programming- to great extent. The possibility to align academic and military education is proof for the high training standards in NATO.

Graduates will acquire the competencies to analyze the facets of complex crisis response on the operational and strategic level. The mixture of face to face networking and online problem based learning allows Part-time studying part-time, modules consist of In-service online studies combined with compact attendance-based classes and the residential parts for most modules are two weekend blocks and is ideal for leaders desiring to enlarge their know-ledge, network and to pursue their careers simultaneously.

We would be honored to gain you as ambassador for the M-CMI to promote the program in the future.
