

INTERNSHIP OFFER – Revision Rule of Law Makes Sense

April 17, 2017

What we offer:

The Civil-Military Cooperation Centre of Excellence (CCOE) is a multinational knowledge centre on Civil-Military Interaction (CMI) and Civil-Military Cooperation (CIMIC). The CCOE is accredited by NATO. The CCOE provides a broad scope of work along four main pillars: Training and Education, Concept Development and Experimentation, Doctrine Development and Standards as well as Lessons Learned and Analysis.

The CCOE intends to conduct a revision of their documentation on the topic of good governance. The CCOE publication 'Rule of Law Makes Sense' is written with the intention to give military and civil personnel working in a mission area an idea of how good governance works and how this concept can assist in achieving mission success. Next to this, this publication can serve as a reference for CIMIC personnel.

The area of responsibility for this internship will be confined to the revision of the 'Good Governance Makes Sense' publication. This will be done by conferring with subject matter experts within NATO and external organisations and based on the latest insights and developments within the field of civil military cooperation. Furthermore the intern will support with concept development and other tasks within the CIC branch if required. The revision will be conducted in close cooperation with other revision projects.

To have a clear understanding of how the CCOE defines governance, the CCOE definition can be found below:

"Rule of law refers to a principle of governance in which all persons, institutions and entities, public and private, including the State itself, are accountable to laws that are publicly promulgated, equally enforced and independently adjudicated, and which are consistent with international human rights norms and standards. It requires, as well, measures to ensure adherence to the principles of supremacy of law, equality before the law, accountability to the law, fairness in the application of the law, separation of powers, participation in decision-making, legal certainty, avoidance of arbitrariness and procedural and legal transparency." CCOE 'Rule of Law Makes Sense'

What we do:

The Concepts, Interoperability and Capabilities (CIC) branch contributes to the Civil-Military CCOE mission by building and developing concepts, making these concepts operable and translating them to a “boots on the ground” perspective.

As one of the core branches of the CCOE, the CIC branch contributes to the international field of Civil-Military Cooperation by strengthening its core concepts and sharing these insights within NATO, countries, international and governmental organisations.
